Grover Alexander, with four straight victories, leads the National pitchers. Next the Philadelphia are Schneider, Cincinnati, Chalmers, Philadelphia, and Pierce, Chicago, credited with two wins each and like Alexander, awarded no defeats. Eddie Leno, Pittsburgh, leads the batters of the Federal League. In seven games, he has been up six times and made three hits for a percentage of .600. Huff sets the base stealing pace with nine.

Led by Allen, of Pittsburgh, with four wins to his credit, there are six undefeated pitchers in the Federal League. The others are Kaiserling, Newark, with three victories; McConell, Chicago, two; Mullin, Newark, one; Prongerast, Chicago, one, and Finnegan, Brooklyn, one.

HUGHIE HUGHES PILOTS NEW CAR IN THE BIG RACE.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Indianapolis, May 3.—Three F. R. P.'s, a Sebring, and an Emden car have been added to the list of starters for the next Indianapolis 500-mile race, bringing the total of nominations for that event to twenty-nine.
The drivers named in this bunch of entries are Hughie Hughes, runner-up in the last Grand Prize, Charles Keene, a place winner at Indianapolis last year, and Neil Whalen, a former National star, who will tool F. R. P.'s; and Joe Cooper, who will pilot the Sebring. No one has yet been selected to steer the Emden.
The F. R. P. cars are the class of the lot, with the latest ideas and materials and design in their make-up. Mounting Knight motors and weighing only 1900 pounds, they are expected to give the public full value for its money.
The Sebring is an Ohio car, built at Youngstown. Exactly what it is capable of will not be known until the speedway elimination trials the middle of May, when it will make its debut. The Emden is a privately entered car from Milford, Ia. It, likewise, is an unknown quantity and cannot at present be figured seriously.

WOLGAST-WELSH FIGHT IS POSTPONED AGAIN

Milwaukee, May 3.—Fans will have to wait another two weeks before they can see Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of Cardiff, Wales, and the world, in action with Adolphus Wolgast, Welsh, who is in New York, said that he wanted another week in which to train. The South Side A. C. has forfeited $250 from each of the fighters, so they told him to go ahead.
This is the second time the match has been postponed. It was originally scheduled for May 4, then set back to May 10. Now it will be on May 18. Welsh has asked for more time in each instance.

Wolgast will go back to Cadillac, Mich., on Monday. He has some business he wants to look after, but will return on Thursday. The Dutchman says he welcomes the change in date as it will allow him to get into better shape.

WHALES LOOK GOOD TO WIN IN FEDERAL

Fed Scout Will Not Have to Look Much for Material as Enough Good Players Are in Outlaw Circuit.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, May 3.—A peek into the Federal league record book so far this season seems to show that the Gilmore circuit at the present rate of its development of youngsters won't have to raid the American or National leagues for its future stars. Hard put to it for likely timber from the start the Federal league scouts were particularly energetic in combing the sand lots, the bushes the college and even the high schools. These scouts have done their work fairly well as shown by the records.
Ed Zwilling, of the Whales, for instance is really a product of the Federal. Zwilling was turned back to the Western League by the White Sox after a brief tryout with the latter club. Tinker locked Zwilling over and signed him. The box scores show how Zwilling has behaved with the Whales.

Another young Federal whose hitting has been a feature this season in its timeliness is Westerzill of the Brookfords. In seven games this year he has hit for an average of .476. Still another Brookford player whose batting has been Wagnerian is Cooper who averages .370 in fifteen games. Young Tobin of Fielder Jones' crew is another sensational young player who does not need a record in the American and National behind him to make him look good while on duty.
Against arguments some times heard that the Federal league batters are good merely because they have no pitchers to face, it has been pointed out that Hal Chase, Rebel Oakes and other young stars when in the American and National leagues, have been getting mighty few pickings from Federal league pitchers.

They say that when Duncan goes to bat in Baltimore, the Baltimoreans without stopping to think, begin to yell for wreckers to tear down the fence in right or center field so it will stop the ball. Besides being a .438 hitter, Duncan works in the American and National leagues, has been getting mighty few pickings from Federal league pitchers.

WINS PENTATHLON; NOW BERRY'S CALLED AMERICA'S BEST COLLEGIATE ATHLETE

Harold Berry.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Philadelphia, Pa., April 29.—A sturdy youth of nineteen, representing the University of Pennsylvania, named Harold Berry, proved himself the best collegiate athlete in America when he won the pentathlon, the all around contest at the recent relay championships at Franklin Field. Berry weighs 155 pounds and is rather small, being only 5 feet 8 1/2 inches in height, but despite his youth and small build he outsped outjumped and outthrew a quintet of opponents, every one of whom was a giant in comparison.
The pentathlon contest is made up of five events—the running broad jump, 200-metre run, throwing the javelin, throwing the discus and 1,500-metre run.

Opposing Berry were Harry Worthington of Dartmouth, a big fellow who went to the last Olympic Games as America's best jumper; L. Lamb of Penn State, who resembles the powerful Martin Sheridan; J. Smith of Franklin and Marshall, at least twenty pounds heavier than Berry; Mc Masters of Pittsburgh, who might be taken for guard on one of that institution's football teams, and W. Creighton, a Penn man, who hereafter will devote his athletic activity to the football team or strength tests.

The running broad jump was the first event of this contest decided. Its first honors went to Worthington with 17 feet 10 inches. Berry followed with 17 feet 6 inches. Smith came next with 17 feet 4 inches. Lamb followed with 17 feet 2 inches. Creighton followed with 17 feet 1 inch. In the next two, the 200-metre dash and throwing the discus, he finished second in each and in the final event, the 1,500-metre run, he outsped his opponents all the way and earned another first place. With two victories, two seconds and one third, his point score tallied nine.

Johnny Miljus, the young man who was creating a sensation by his great twirling at the University of Pittsburgh this spring, has been declared ineligible by the faculty because of poor marks in studies. Miljus was a freshman who came heralded as a marvel, and who was living up to the reputation made at Pittsburgh Academy last year.

Branch Rickey has resumed his practice of daily conferences with the Browns, and begins the work each day with a half-hour session of talk in his hotel room. The Browns' manager says he will insist on literal obedience to his mandate against gambling this year.

Detroiters aver that Detroit would have given the Athletics a battle for the pennant in 1914 had Cobb been in the game all season. But, unfortunately for the Tigers, Ty played only 97 games. "Give us Cobb practically all year," said Hughie Jennings last week, "and we will run one-two. Veach has improved wonderfully and is a worthy colleague of Cobb and Crawford. I don't know where to get a better man than Donie Bush at short. Pep Young is a fielding sensation at second and Veach and Kavanagh, we have two very capable utility men. I don't know of a club that has a stronger catching staff than Detroit and I am satisfied that our pitching staff will come through all right. Dubs, Daus and Coveleskie are three stars and we have some very competent youngsters in Boland, Carvel, Boomer and Reynolds. On the whole, I think they are going to have a lot of trouble in dislodging us from first place if we do not meet with any more accidents."

During the parts of two seasons that Fielder Jones has been a Federal league manager he has attained little in the way of a standing for his club. When he was in the American league he copied pennants and world's championships, but as a Federal league boss his career has been mostly in the second division.

Paul Des Jardien, the famous all-around athlete, is said to have accepted the terms of the Chicago National league club, the signing of his contract to take place immediately after he graduates in June. NO POLITICS.

There is no politics in the state university? Oh no. Certainly not. Why politics and President Van Hise are absolute strangers. They would have to be introduced if they met. His junketing around the state speaking here and there at this meeting and that, in pulpits and out, why that is not political action. Oh my no.

Of course the University lobby that is in evidence around the state capital. The unregistered lobby. The lobby that infests the "bill factory" that suggests to legislators this bill or that. That is not a political lobby. Oh my no. It is merely an experimental government class. This great cry of save the state institution of learning from destruction at the hands of the Goths and Vandals. Rally Ye sons of the Varsity to its support. Drive back the tax payers who seek to find out where their money has gone. Drive back the invading host of business interests who want to know the why and wherefore of certain reform institutions that originate in the fertile brains of professors who have nothing else to do but draw their salaries and experiment. This is not politics? Oh no.

The great tax paying public of Wisconsin are the Goths and Vandals and the University Professors are not inclined to sit quietly as did the Senators of Rome and wait for their trial. They must do something to save their facts in lectures. They must prove loyal to the trust that gives them a good income doing little or nothing but experiment with other people's money. They must plan the battle but they want the fighting to be done by some one else. They want to enlist a counter army of tax payers. Men blinded by glittering words and promises to go into the trenches and meet the enemy and to accomplish this they have created one of the most complete lobbies that the state has ever seen in its palmy days of lobby's to bring about the desired results. The Evening Wisconsin, the new official state paper, by will of the legislature says:

"No politics in the state university? But note the newspaper organs of that high-handed management of that institution trying to work upon critics of what has been wrong in the institution as 'old-line Tories.' Ex-Regent Frederick C. Thwaites has earned a reputation as a progressive of progressiveness, and also as a friend of higher education—an idealist, in fact—who gave money to found university scholarships. It is manifest for the organs to yawn about 'Tories' as they do; but it is politics—and it is quite characteristic of the methods which have brought discredit upon the university management.

There you have it in a nut shell and no frill on its serving. Think it over and see what your opinion is on the subject then write up to Madison and urge that the University's passion for money and control of state politics be crushed by legislative action.

THIS IS CLEAN UP DAY.

This is clean up day. The first of the two that have been arranged for by the Commercial Club and city officials. Let every alley be cleaned up, let all back yards be rid of their winter surplus of old cans and ashes, let us have a spotless city. While doing all this, let us not forget some of the down town districts. Look at some of the property owned by our "leading citizens" and see if they have complied with the requirements. Ashes that encroach on the sidewalks are unsightly even if the streets are not used for travel often. Clean your yard and surroundings and then look to it that your neighbors do likewise. The main object however is to clean up now and then keep clean.

By the way the river banks need attention just at present. They present anything but a pleasant sight to the eye of visitors. Why not either enforce the ordinances in existence or pass new ones that are stringent for this purpose and rid the city of the nuisance once and for all? Other cities manage to enforce clean up ordinances, why not Janesville? It can be done in one city it can in another and it is time to begin now and not wait longer. The civics committee of the Commercial Club wants the co-operation of every citizen and they should have it. Get busy.

SOUND DOCTRINE.

In discussing the note which was received by the German Ambassador at Washington the Nations says most pertinently:

"Ambassador Bernstorff must feel like taking a pinch of snuff, to see if his diplomatic head is still on. It was a right Saladin stroke, deft, delicate, but severing, which the German Ambassador's offensive commination brought upon himself from the President's scimitar. In this case it is not necessary to go through the form of assuming that Secretary Bryan wrote the document to which he put his name. Its real authorship is avowed in Washington, and, if it has not been, would be plain from internal evidence. Mr. Wilson himself took up the task of answering the German Ambassador's letter. He speaks for itself. In the polite and most silken way, it applies the cold steel. The Ambassador is given to understand that he had displayed both ignorance and impudence, but is rebuked with such an excess of grace that he would be unable to put his finger on a single phrase in the President's reply to him which he could allege to have an insulting turn. President Wilson went about the affair in precisely the right temper. He had to repel an affront but he has done it in a way not to impair his own calm poise, or to lower the dignity of the country by anything like raw-head and bloody-bones retort. As he insinuated, with latent sarcasm, Ambassador Bernstorff has been 'jabbering under false impressions.' One thought impresses upon his letter that Wilson apparently was that he could take liberties with our Government. He now knows—and the authorities in Berlin know—that he cannot."

President Taft is to be much in demand at Madison this present week. His three days will be strenuous ones. If all that is planned for his entertainment is carried out.

Mr. Barnes can undoubtedly be classed among the notables that certainly started something when he sued T. R. for fifty thousand.

General Huerta will show rare discrimination if he stays on this side of the Rio Grande as long as Villa is the other fighting with Huerta's other good friend Carranza.

We have passed a week, leaving tonight for "Frisco." Were two days at Grand Canyon, two at San Diego. The whole thing is wonderful. At Grand Canyon I ran across the oldest inhabitant, about 100 or more. After he gave me some information I offered him a cigar, which he refused, saying that was one of the vices he did not have—only had four, and they were not really sins, but he admitted they might be considered such by the Women's Sewing Circle. They were: Chewing tobacco, drinking whiskey, playing dominoes and smoking cigars. Aside from that he claimed to be as good a Christian as anybody. We went down the canyon on mules—a hair-raising experience, even for me. These mules are regular monkeys; if they slip over a precipice they wrap their tails around a tree and pull themselves back, so there's really no danger at all. C. B. H. Los Angeles, April 20.

Not all of the quacks practice medicine. There are a few of them in every other calling.

A woman goes to infinite pains to inspire in a man the desire to kiss her and then rebukes him for attempting to do so.

Men are not whipped for sin. They are whipped for being found out.

Mrs. Everett Bromleigh, who recently moved to Chicago, probably had more friends among the members of her own sex than any other woman who ever lived in our town. Mrs. Bromleigh was popular with more than half the women she knew.

WISCONSIN'S PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS.

Printers and publishers of Wisconsin are to gather in May to discuss ideals and methods of their calling. Wisconsin they will visit the capitol and the state university. From the school of journalism of the latter they will receive much aid. Indeed, it will be upon a survey of the conditions of newspaper publishing in the state, made by this department of the university, by the Wisconsin Press association and other organizations of journalists, that the conference will base its plans for debate and for subsequent action.

The "Wisconsin Idea" calls for precisely this collective or state interest in groups of citizens classified according to their several callings. By and through commissions, or by the state university, or by voluntary action of persons who make up the group, sooner or later just such an assembly as this proposed gathering of printers and publishers is summoned to meet. In this case the state will have as a model the pioneering work of Kansas, where to an extent not equaled in any other state the union, printers, publishers and editors have faced and have begun to settle problems of their craft in the light of social duty and craft co-operation.

Individualism or separatism of journalism, as it is carried on in most of the states, is not likely to change until some tangible proof of the profit of the co-operative policy is produced; and time must be given for accumulation of such evidence. But as a matter of theory the assembling of these conferences for co-operative counsel and for development of spirit de corps is commendable. It will be easy for them to stress too much the "efficiency," accounting, and income-producing aspects of the business. Such is the fashion of the hour in all forms of organized action. As a matter of duty provision should be made, he made for presentation of ideals and discussion of their application to common, ordinary problems of the craft.

Her Secret of Health.

A vigorous old lady when asked the secret of her eighty-three years of health replied: "I never allow myself to fret over things I cannot help. I take a nap, and sometimes two of them, every day. I do not carry my washing, ironing, dressmaking, or baking to bed with me; and I try to oil all the friction out of my busy life by an implicit belief that there is a brain and a heart to this great universe, and that I can trust them both."

ENRICH THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Spring Tonic-Medicine, is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with bilious turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished. Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-year-round blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it for nothing else is like it. There is no real substitute; so be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla for it today, and begin taking it at once.

did not cost $100,000. It is not the most expensive in Southern Wisconsin. But it is a mighty good instrument for a theater to have, and is played by a musician who is a thorough master of it. Professor Thiele, a man who can make it fairly talk. Whether played alone, or with the rest of the orchestra it is well worth going to hear. And the beauty of Professor Thiele's work on the organ is that he knows when to use it, and when not; in many theaters the organ is used to accompany all kinds of pictures, but here, even if it has to be only used for a single evening, it is only used when APPROPRIATE.

THINGS THAT TIRE US.
"I've been having one of those broken days," my neighbor said to me last night. "I'm fearfully tired and yet I don't seem to have worked very hard. I can't see why I'm so tired."

I could. She had been trying to accomplish something and she had been continually torn away from her task by those innumerable little demands for attention that sometimes fill up the housemother's day to the exclusion of everything else.

More Strange If She Weren't Tired.
To my mind it would have been a far greater wonder if she hadn't been tired. We usually think of hard work and weariness as the inevitable cause and effect, but to my thinking we don't get tired out from physical hard work half so often as we do from other causes.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
Confusion is another factor which takes more out of most of us than plain hard work. Take a moving day for example. You have a woman help you clean and a man to do the heavy work. You make no more actual physical exertion than you have on many ordinary days, yet night finds you utterly exhausted. The confusion, the clutter, the excitement, the unsettled state of things has done it.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
Few people realize what a factory noise is in exhausting one's nervous forces. Every noise we hear uses up a little nervous force. Perhaps you know that Edison gives some of the credit for his tremendous capacity for concentration and the unbelievable amount of work he can get through, to the fact of his deafness.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
Myself, I was taking a thousand children to the circus. To a thousand poor children. Every time anything happened to please those children—or an average of every sixty seconds—they all expressed their approval at the top of their lungs. I had a beautiful time, but I was never more utterly tired, and I haven't a doubt that sheer noise did it.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
Last, but not least among factors that tire us more than work is lack of harmony. Nothing in the world tires me more than the fear of criticism or the feeling that someone is displeased with me. Nothing wears on me like an atmosphere of temper. I know a woman who usually wears down after living a year with a mother-in-law who disliked her and showed it. I can quite understand.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
We often speak of people breaking down from overwork. Nine times out of ten it isn't overwork at all but an overstrain from some one of these causes.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
Letters May Be Addressed To Mrs. Thompson, in Care of The Gazette.
Dear Mrs. Thompson: There is a young man in our town who I have gone with for a long time and think a great deal of him. But he takes spells of getting mad at me as if I were an enemy. He is tall, dark, and handsome. After two or three times he quits her and doesn't go with anyone. He is around as if his heart were broken, and then if I start to go around with another fellow it seems as if it will kill him. Then right away he wants to come back to me. He says that he really does care for me, but I think he is just jealous. The sooner you drop him the better for his happiness.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have read that taking oil of cedar and applying it to an ordinary pine box will make a good substitute for a cedar chest. How should the box be prepared? Is it expensive? How much would it take for a box 30x20x12 inches? Which is the more appropriate for an eighteen month old baby, romper suits or box-pleated dresses? He is large for his age. (3) How tall do climbing roses grow? Will string twine be all right to support them? MILDRED.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
(1) Apply it with a brush. It will take about a quart, and at ten cents an ounce will cost about three dollars and twenty cents. It may take more than one coat. (2) Rompers. (3) As high as the porch. Wire is better for roses, because they are so heavy. (1) I am a young lady in the first year of high school. I am very large for my age. I have been corresponding with a young man in another town and hear from him but once a week. My parents do not object. Do you think this is proper for me to do? (2) When a girl is out buggy riding in the country how late should she stay out? (3) Do you think a boy really cares for a girl if he writes comical things in his letters? (4) I am going with a young girl who is continually talking of boys who she goes with in a neighboring town. I don't like to have her do this. How can I stop her and still keep her friendship?

Why Moving Day Exhausts You.
(1) My dear child, I see no harm in your corresponding with this boy. (2) Nine-thirty. (3) Yes. He probably gives her credit of having a sense of humor. (4) Tell her that you don't like to hear about them.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am very much interested in your column and I have been worrying a great deal lately about a certain matter. I am deeply in love with a young man who I think is in love with me, but I know that for some reason his family do not approve of me and have taken a strong dislike to me. I am afraid that this will influence the young man in time and that he will come to feel as his family does, as he thinks a great deal of them. What can I do to retain his love? FLORENCE.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am in love with a young man and he has asked me to marry him. My mother likes him, but my father does not. We love each other very much and I am sure we would be very happy together. Would it be well to marry? THANK YOU.

Ask your father to tell you frankly why he objects to the man. If he has no good reasons why you should not marry the man, go ahead and do it. It is your happiness that is at stake.

Teach Honesty.
Mothers, teach your little ones when very young to be frank and honest; show them that almost any mischief is preferable to deceit and falsehood, and then, when they realize the value of truth, trust them. You have no idea how great an influence a mother's trust can be. The very knowledge that mother trusts them will be enough to hold the little ones back from any real evil.

Household Hints

CANDIES.
Oriental Drops—Two and one-half pounds granulated sugar, one-half pound butter, whites of two eggs, six drops citric acid, pint cold water. Stir sugar in water over hot fire until sugar is dissolved, then add glycerin until it commences to boil; then put in the acid, cover kettle, set back, let steam well three minutes; remove lid, boil to soft ball when dropped in water, pour on a plate quickly. When cold add beaten whites of two eggs, work into desired shape. Let stand a while to set, then with a fork dip into melted chocolate. Set to cool again. It will take one-half pound chocolate. Stir chocolate constantly while melting, as it gets much better and draws off better. If thermometer is used in making, cook the drops 236 degrees before covering with chocolate.

MOCK CHICKEN DISHES.
Anyone will find these mock chicken dishes delicious.
Mock Chicken.—Cut one slice of fresh pork ham in cubes one inch in size; cook in salted water till tender, which will take one-half hour. Over this pour a white sauce made by thickening three tablespoons flour in two cups milk; add salt, pepper and piece of butter. Pour this over slices of toast; will taste very much like chicken.

Fricassee Pork.—Have a slice of fresh pork ham cut one and one-half inches thick. Cut this in small pieces and parboil in salted water ten minutes. Drain and dip in beaten eggs, then in cracker crumbs. Fry in deep fat till brown. Make a brown gravy by thickening one tablespoon fat, two cups milk with two tablespoons flour. Arrange meat on platter and pour over the sauce.

Delicious Mock Chicken.—Mix fresh pork ham as for the creamed dish, only add several potatoes and two onions. Season with salt and pepper and cover with a crust. Make crust as follows: Two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, salt, mix into this two-thirds cup lard. Add enough cold milk or water to make a dough. Roll out one inch thick, punch holes in it. Place over meat and bake in hot oven till brown.

MARSHMALLOW FROSTINGS.
1.—Put a layer of split marshmallows on a baked layer cake. Put in hot oven till melted to a paste, then put cake together and frost.
2.—Boil six tablespoons sugar and two of milk (do not stir) for six minutes. Melt one-fourth pound marshmallows in double boiler. When melted to a paste, add two tablespoons hot water and cook smooth, then add the hot sugar and milk mixture, beating all the time until partly cold. Add one-half teaspoon vanilla extract, and spread between cake layers before cold.

3.—The white of one egg well beaten, add to three tablespoons pulverized sugar, a little vanilla, frost large square crackers, top each one with a marshmallow. Brown in quick oven a minute and you have a very dainty cookie.

Orange Drops.—Grate rind of one orange and squeeze out juice, taking care to reject seeds; add to this a pinch of tartaric acid; then stir in confectioner's sugar until it is stiff enough to form into balls the size of a small marble. This is delicious candy. The same process for lemon drops, using lemons in place of orange.

Glimpses of Married Life

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

"What are you going to wear to the Elston luncheon?" asked Mrs. Parsons, coming up on the back porch swinging her hat by the ties.
"Wear! I did not know there was going to be one. It's evident I shall not be urged to attend," said Nell, dropping the knife into the pan of potatoes she was paring. "You see I was right, my head is on the block."

"I can't understand it," said Mrs. Parsons, dropping onto the steps. "Dick says—but it is too absurd to repeat," began Nell, flushing.
"Go on, nothing is too absurd for that woman to do," "He says she is jealous because I call the doctor so frequently for baby. I know nothing of babies and I presume I do call him when there is no need of it."

"Oh, every mother does. Roger used to tell me I'd bankrupt him." "And do you know," continued Nell, "young Mrs. Scott was very cool to me at your luncheon that day. Did I tell you that I saw Mrs. Elston but-toholler her and carry her off, while we were on the porch together that day at the lawn party?"

"Help thinking she has told her a lot of lies. I did like Mrs. Scott very much and it hurt to have her treat me so coolly that day, after her friendliness at the lawn party." Mrs. Parsons dropped her chin in her hand and was silent.

"She will notice my absence from this luncheon. In so small a society every one is noticed." Nell pared potatoes in silence.

Dinner Stories

Taking his visitors to the incubator, the chicken raiser removed the lid. A brood of little Black Spanish chicks had just emerged from the shell.

"How did you manage to raise an entire brood all black?" asked the visitor.
"By heating the incubator with a dark lantern."

One evening during the summer, as Pauline's mother was putting her to bed, she said:
"Now go right to sleep, dear. Don't be afraid, for God's angels are watching over you."

Shortly after, while the mother and father were reading in the library, the child called to her mother.
"Yes, dear," replied the mother, "what is it?"

"God's angels are puzzling around just awful, mother," cried the little girl, "and one of 'em's bitten me!"

Little Elsie, aged five, was quietly playing on the porch one afternoon, while her father and one of his friends were enjoying a smoke and having a chat on political matters. They paid no attention to the little girl's presence, and Elsie seemed wholly absorbed in her dolls.

That evening Elsie appeared to be unusually silent and thoughtful. When bedtime came and she knelt the usual petitions, and then, with a slight pause, she resumed in a very earnest manner:
"And now, God, please take good care of Yourself, for if anything should happen to You, we should only have Mr. Wilson—and he hasn't come up to father's expectations."

Diplomatic Johnny.
John was playing in the back yard with a crowd of other little fellows. Suddenly someone said, "Let's have a party." Accordingly, each one went to his mother for something to contribute. John's mother was making cookies and gave him one for each of the others. When he came down and saw that the other little boys brought bread and butter, he exclaimed, "O, everybody eat what they brought!"

PURPOSES OF PRISON AND REFORM POLICY

OPERATE PRISON TO PROTECT SOCIETY AND BRING MORAL UPLIFT TO INMATES.

REV. WOODWARD TALKS

Warden of Waupun Penitentiary Speaks at Y. M. C. A. Afternoon Services and at Baptist Church in Evening.

Rev. Daniel Woodward, warden and reform worker at Waupun prison, gave an address at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon and at the Baptist church in the evening, which was filled with philosophical ideas of prison reform and the reformation of criminals. The operation of a penal institution that cares for 850 inmates, according to Rev. Woodward, should be operated upon business principles, with a clearly defined purpose to protect society and bring about a moral uplift of the inmates, and at the same time economize public funds.

At the Baptist church services Rev. Woodward said: "In being warden of a great penal institution like at Waupun, there is a severe test of the Christian doctrine of Christ's teaching, whether the Bible could be applied to the life of the criminal. There you have men and women gathered together under abnormal conditions, entirely different than those gathering in a church. Years of service at Waupun have thoroughly convinced me that Christ should be applied to every-day life, to everyone. In prison the age of brooding and cruelty has changed to one of trust and confinement under good conditions, depending upon the class of the criminal.

TOWN BOARD PRESIDENT HONORED BY RESIDENTS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Orfordville, May 1.—On Friday evening a new elected town board held their first regular meeting.

After the transaction of the routine business and were about to adjourn, a company of more than thirty including nearly all the business men of the village, went in a body to the village hall and presented the president, E. J. Taylor, with a gavel.

Mr. Taylor made the presentation speech and said in part as follows: In many respects our gathering is unusual and out of the ordinary. We are living in an age when reform is rampant; an age when the custom for people to think that those who have to do with the making of our laws are dishonest and corrupt, and that the only ones who are strictly upright are those who sit idly by, and without intelligence enough to do things, impugn the motives of those who do.

Our coming together is unusual for the reason that we have placed in the sole purpose of expressing to the newly elected board, our confidence in your ability and honor. Do not, however, expect to escape criticism or the tongue of slander. Those who do things are the ones upon whom opprobrium and reproach are the most often heaped and the most deserving public servant and the most called upon to meet the most violent criticism. And now, Mr. President, to emphasize what I have said, allow me in the name of the company of your admirers to present to you this little token of confidence. It is to you an emblem, not of arbitrary authority, but rather a token of power that the people have placed in your hands. It is not necessary for me to admonish you to use it with prudence or the authority it bespeaks, with moderation, but as the sun rules the day and the moon governs the night, so may you strive ever to rule and govern this body with equal quiet and regularity.

After the presentation, the crowd adjourned to the dining room in connection with the I. O. O. F. hall and partook of ice cream and listened to short addresses by Rev. O. J. Kvale, Rev. W. S. Carr, H. C. Taylor and others. The gathering was a complete surprise to the members of the board, who responded gracefully through the president, thanking the citizens for their interest and assuring them of their best endeavors to carry out their wishes.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

"Handing out kisses to men who have no right to ask for them is not prudish—it's indiscreet," says a wonderful line in Jack Lait's New York and Chicago success, "Help Wanted," which comes to the Myers Theatre, on Tuesday, May 4, with the support of having played 39 weeks at the Court Theatre in Chicago. This is the longest run ever captured by any success in Chicago, and this fact alone is making "Help Wanted" the most

SICK SKINS MADE WELL BY RESINOL

No matter how long you have been tortured and disfigured by itching, burning, raw or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing, antiseptic Resinol Ointment on the sores. The suffering usually stops right there!

Healing begins that very minute, and in almost every case your skin gets well so quickly, you feel ashamed of the money you threw away on tedious, useless treatments.

Resinol Ointment is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription which proved so wonderfully successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other doctors all over the country for twenty years. No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment (50c. and $1.00), and Resinol Soap (25c.). They do wonders for pimples, blackheads, dandruff and chafings, and are a comfort to skin-tortured babies.

Intellectual Conviction. The phrase "intellectual conviction" is misleading. There can be no conviction (or mental conclusion) without the intellect. One may have a notion born of fancy, or a sentiment arising from desire; but a conviction means the result of a logical process—a process which is, from beginning to end, an affair of intellect, and nothing else.

No Demand. Once upon a time a man invented glasses with which people could see their own faults. He starved to death.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

MAN IS SUED FOR 50 CENTS

Trial Lasts 22 Minutes and the Defendant is Mulcted $9.51 Costs.

Chicago.—It took 22 minutes of the time of an entire municipal court branch, including Judge J. Z. Uhlir, a bailiff, a clerk, two lawyers, two witnesses for the defense and one for the complainant, to settle a suit for 50 cents.

Worth Allen, a lawyer, employed Mrs. Eleanor Winchell to search county records for realty holdings of a man whom he wished to sue. He paid her $6 for her work. Then, he declared, he learned she had charged him 50 cents for time used in checking up for hidden property.

"It's not so," she answered, and her stenographer added a similar denial. She said she found this property didn't belong to the man and that Allen asked her to verify it. That was what she charged him 50 cents for.

"You lose," the court told Allen; "the $9.51 court costs are charged against you."

In a Brand. A youthful bride had undertaken to keep house. She went to the municipal markets, of course. One day the man at the vegetable stall displayed, for her admiration, a bunch of the asparagus, "picked not three hours ago," he said. The new housekeeper gazed upon the asparagus with unaffected amazement. "Does it grow like that?" she asked. "I always supposed the cook braided the ends of it."
